HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATED BY W.A.

Two state records were broken and a series of thoroughly thrilling athletic events were pulled off at the fair grounds Thursday afternoon, when the Webers of the Ogden high school and those wearing the purple and white for the Weber academy met to settle ancient rivalry and strove nobly throughout an exciting afternoon in which the ultimate outcome was in doubt from start to finish. The Weber academy came off victorious.

The final score stood 57 to 47 in favor of the academy. The youthful athletes representing both sides contested cleanly for honors, although rivalry of long standing was extremely keen.

In the 220-yard dash the state record was broken by Moran of the Ogden high school and in the 440-yard dash Roberts of the academy succeeded in breaking another state record. It was noticeable that the rival schools cheered together when these announcements were made.

Before the match the teams were known to be well balanced as in a similar indoor track meet held a year ago, the teams were almost equal in their local struggle for supremacy. The Weber academy is rapidly achieving a position of prominence in state athletic circles, having won the northern championship and the southern championship. The latter was taken by defeating the Salt Lake Y. M. C. A. of the Salt Lake State league, 76 to 23.

One of the features of yesterday's brilliant meet was the relay race. Had Ogden won this would have tied the score and the spectators held their breath until the race was finished. The academy took the race with ease, having twenty yards to spare. On the whole the meet was by far the most successful ever held here and did much to promote school athletics in Ogden, faculty and students expressing general satisfaction with the conduct of the events, and the high school admitting that the academy's victory was honestly won.

The summary follows:
220-yard hurdles—Whittemyer, O. H. S. won; Smith, H. S., second; Ingles, H. S., third. Time, 28.45.

Democrats Divided.
When a proposition was put in writing and Senator Johnston of Alabama began to circulate it on the minority side of the chamber, he met with much opposition and before he had proceeded far, his associates became convinced his part was by no means unanimous for the proposed compact.

Among those who refused to sign were Senators Bacon, Rayner, Frazier, Overman and Smith of South Carolina. They raised the objection that the agreement would be construed as a surrender to "African Republicans" with such a large defection, the movement for an agreement practically decided before the close of the day to refrain from further effort in that direction.

The failure to put through this formal plan did not, however, cause complete abandonment of efforts to bring the bill to an early vote. Senator Aldrich, the prime mover in this direction, was busy throughout the day. Just before the senate adjourned, he said some arrangement would be made in securing the passage of the bill at an early date.

Vote Next Week.
Senator Hale, in an open talk in the senate, said a vote should be reached by the end of the next week. Formally, the railroad bill was before the senate throughout the day and Senator Cummins occupied the floor from the beginning to the end of the session.

His amendment, requiring that before going into effect in cases in railroad rates shall have the approval of the interstate commerce commission was under immediate consideration.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Beginning today with a fair prospect of an agreement between the "regular" Republicans and the Democrats, which would permit an early vote upon the railroad bill, the senate concluded today's session in as great uncertainty as it has been at any time during consideration of the bill.

The day was full of consultation and the situation shifted many times. When adjournment was taken shortly after 4 o'clock, there was more talk of an understanding between the regular Republicans and the insurgent Republicans, than between the "regulars" and the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—President Taft was the central figure at today's session of the world's Sunday school convention, now in convention here. At tonight's mass-meeting, held in convention, which was surrounded by a crowd fully as large as the 6,000 within the big structure, he acknowledged the Bible school as a powerful force in the moral and educational uplift of the world.

"It is one of the two or three great instrumentalities," he said, "for making the world better, more moral and more religious. As the twig is bent, so the tree is inclined; and youth is the time to inculcate religious ideas. No matter what views are taken of general education, we all agree, Protestant, Catholic and Jew, that Sunday school education is necessary to secure moral uplift and religious spirit."

The race question has invaded the convention. Local negro Sunday school leaders are protesting because members of their race are to be barred from the men's monster Bible class parade tomorrow. In a statement issued by them tonight they declared "It is unfortunate any one who hears his name should at this time when the evangelization of the world in this generation is the watchword of millions, should turn to such offensive forms of race prejudice as the local committee of Washington has done in completely, as far as it is concerned, eliminating colored people from any part of the sixth world's Sunday school convention."

Rev. Dr. F. B. Meyer of England, president of the association, in introducing President Taft, declared that for twenty years he "had prayed for the president of the United States every Sunday after prayer for the king of England."

And this, he added, is a common custom in England.
Mr. Taft replied to this by saying he hoped these prayers would continue.

"My experience," he said, "is that these prayers are needed."
Other speakers at tonight's meeting were Rev. Dr. Sam H. Greene of this city; former Postmaster General John Waukmaster; Rev. J. Monroe Gibson, England; Bishop Yotsu, Japan, and Bishop Hartzel of Africa.

sections of Box Elder and Uintah counties the population schedules of all enumeration districts will be in the hands of the local officers by May 25. The enumerator originally appointed to cover Box Elder became sick, it is said, and did not inform Mr. McMullin until the time for the completion of the count was drawing near. Another enumerator was appointed. It will probably be June 1 before his work is finished. Owing to the long distances to be covered in Uintah county and the poor conditions of the roads, the count there has also been delayed, and Mr. N. Larsen has been named enumerator in the districts of Lynwood and Manila, designated as district No. 242.

athletes representing the Ogden high school.
With well rehearsed college yells of the most approved type, the loyal academy students shouted themselves hoarse during the evening, marching from street to street, singing the battle song of the victorious. High school boys, as is usual in such cases, were conspicuous by their absence, presumably mapping out a plan of action to overcome the defeat at the next meeting.

EXERCISES MARK SCHOOL CLOSING
Interesting exercises, of which the feature was an able address by Judge A. R. Heywood, marked the closing of the 1910 term of the Smithsonian Business college last night. Throngs of friends and relatives of the graduating class filled the Methodist church to capacity, enjoying the excellent program, which opened with a prelude by the Harmony orchestra, followed by an invocation by Rev. G. W. McCree.

Accompanied by Miss Jessie M. Welch, Miss Denmark sang a solo in pleasing manner, and the Arion quartette ably rendered a pleasing selection. "O. U. Guess," in his rendition of "The Call of the Wild," was liberally applauded, as was "O. U. Guess" twice in "How I Fired My Boss."

President J. A. Smith of the college delivered the class introduction, followed by Miss Florence Catherine Olsen, who rendered a vocal solo in pleasing manner, after which Judge Heywood delivered the class address on "Elements That Win," offering good business logic and sane advice to the young men and women of the class. The presentation of diplomas followed.

Mr. Gawan, while making the trip from Salt Lake to Denver in an automobile recently, met with a accident at Dana, Wyo. Mr. Gawan was accompanied by Mr. Keogh, and the party was traveling along an abandoned right of way, when suddenly a culvert where the bridge had been taken out was encountered and the auto plunged into space.

Mr. Gawan was sitting in the rear seat of the auto, and was thrown out. He was injured, but returned by train home, and was then seized with the illness from which he is now recovering.

LESLEY GRIEVE STRUCK BY SPEEDING AUTOMOBILE
Salt Lake, May 20.—Speeding about twenty-five miles an hour along State street near Third street, W. T. Sherrill, driving taxicab 830 of the Taxicab and Auto company, 233 South West Temple street, struck Leslie L. Grieve, of 8 Sheldene court, employed by the Chicago Cleaning Company, tore his undershirt, shirt and coat from his back and buried him fifteen feet, Thursday night. After running about one-third of a block south on State street, Sherrill succeeded in stopping the automobile. He was arrested and taken to the police station by Patrolman Carstensen, who saw the accident, and charged with a violation of the speed ordinance, but was later released on his own recognizance by Chief of Police Barlow.

Grieve, assisted by his father, walked to the police station and reported the matter, after which he left in search of a physician. He sustained severe bruises about the body and a large gash under the right shoulder blade.

As Sherrill was being placed under arrest, he told the patrolman that it would cost him 50 cents to ride to the station. Carstensen forthwith hauled the young man out of the automobile and took him to the station in the patrol wagon.
